Summary of Task

Throughout the module, students have built an understanding of how customs and traditions reflect a country's culture, and have read a Magic Tree House book and accompanying informational texts to gather a rich collection of information. The performance task gives students a chance to share their learning about the culture of the country they have researched. Students will be writing a letter to Mary Pope Osborne, the author of the Magic Tree House books, urging her to write a new book, set in the present day, about the country they have researched. In this informative/explanatory letter, students present their research about the culture of the country and suggest ideas for the plot of the new book. This task addresses NYSP12 ELA CCLS W.3.2, W.3.4, W.3.5, W.3.7, W.3.8, L.3.1h, L.3.1i, L.3.2f, and L.3.3a.

Format

A four-paragraph letter

An introductory paragraph (scaffolded writing during Unit 3; first draft of expert country written as on-demand in the Mid-Unit 3 Assessment)

Two body paragraphs (scaffolded writing during Unit 3; first draft of expert country written as on-demand assessment in the Mid-Unit 3 Assessment)

A closing paragraph (scaffolded writing during Unit 3; first draft of expert country written as on-demand assessment in the Mid-Unit 3 Assessment)

Student-Friendly Writing Invitation/Task Description

- Author Mary Pope Osborne has announced she will write a new Magic Tree House book! Instead of traveling to a place in the past, however, Ms. Osborne has decided that Jack and Annie will return in the present to a country they've already visited. Before she begins writing, Ms. Osborne wants to be sure there are plenty of interesting things about the culture of the country that she can include in her new story.
- You have been invited to conduct this research for her! After conducting research with your small group about your assigned country, you will individually write a letter to the author of the Magic Tree House series to inform her about the culture of your country today. This will help her decide whether she should write a new book on this country. Include information about two aspects of culture that you discovered in your Exploring Countries text. Use accurate facts, definitions, and details from your research to explain each. At the end of your letter, provide a brief description of how Mary Pope Osborne might use the information you found in a new book on this country. This task addresses NYSP12 ELA CCLS W.3.2, W.3.4, W.3.5, W.3.7, L.3.1h, L.3.1i, L.3.2f, and L.3.3a.

Key Criteria for Success (Aligned with NYSP12 ELA CCLS)

Below are key criteria students must address when completing this task. Specific lessons during the module build in opportunities for students to understand the criteria, offer additional criteria, and work with their teacher to construct a rubric on which their work will be critiqued and formally assessed.

Your letter will meet these criteria:

- A clear and inviting introduction that states the topic and purpose for writing
- Demonstrates an understanding of audience
- Includes two informative paragraphs: one detailed paragraph about each aspect of culture chosen
- Has body paragraphs that each contain a clear topic sentence, supporting details and a concluding statement
- Uses accurate facts, definitions, and details from the research to explain each aspect of culture.
- Uses linking words and phrases to connect ideas together
- Provides a conclusion to wrap up the ideas

Options for Students

- Student letters could be accompanied by illustrations. These could be photos or artwork.

Options for Teachers

- Students may type their final letter.
- Students may present their letter to their own class, to other classes in the school, or to parents or other adults.
- Teachers could create a letter-writing contest for the grade level. After students have completed their letters, a panel of teacher judges could choose one letter to send to Mary Pope Osborne as a representative of their school.
